Chapter 1 Flying to Korea “Are you ready for your first trip to Korea?” asked Mum. “Your cousin will be happy to meet you.” “Yes,” said Chris. “What will it be like in Korea?” “Wait and see,” said Mum. Chris and his family got on the aeroplane. He watched movies, read books and slept on the long trip. He wanted his cousin to like him.
Chapter 2 Meeting Relatives “Here they are,” said Mum pointing to

her family. “Chris, this is your cousin Jae, and your aunt and uncle. Please bow.” Chris bent his neck down in the bow Mum had showed him. He and Jae looked at each other. Jae did not smile. In the car, Mum spoke in Korean to Uncle. What was she saying? Jae said nothing.
Chapter 3 Using Chopsticks “This is our home,” said Uncle. Chris looked up at the tall building. It looked like a skyscraper. Inside was a beautiful apartment that looked like his own. They sat on pillows on the floor at a low table. Chris saw rice, fish soup, beef, and something that looked very spicy. “Mum,” he whispered. “Where is my fork?” “They use chopsticks,” laughed Mum.
When no one was looking, he picked up the chopsticks. He got the beef stuck between the sticks. Quickly, he lifted it to his lips, but

one stick fell to the floor. The beef dropped on his leg. Chris turned red. Jae smiled. "I help you," he said. He left the table and came back with a fork.
Chapter 4 Going to Taekwondo After eating, Aunt said, "You go with Jae to taekwondo." Jae put on his white uniform and red belt. They walked down the street. Chris had not done taekwondo before. He felt a bit nervous. "Here," said Jae. Jae bowed to his teacher, and so Chris bowed, too. "You sit here," said Jae.
Jae jumped and kicked and spun. "You are good," said Chris. "Thank you," said Jae. "You try." Chris kicked and fell. Jae smiled. "You practice," said Jae. "I will teach you baseball," said Chris.
Chris was happy he came to Korea. There was so much to do and see. This would be a fun trip.
