

Running Record - 'City Mouse, Bush Mouse'

LiteracyPlanet Level : LP7 (Word count:413)

Student Name
Date
Errors:		Accuracy Rate:
Self-corrections:		Self-correction Ratio:

Sentence	E	SC	E	SC
			M S V	M S V
Chapter 1 Once upon a time, City Mouse lived in a fancy house and ate as many cheesecakes as he wanted. Tired of the city, he called his cousin, Bush Mouse.
"I'd like to visit the bush. I need a vacation. I want to stare at grass, not walls," said City Mouse. "I, too, would like a change. I'd love to see the city lights, not star light!" said Bush Mouse. The two mice met the next day in the middle.
"Hello, Cousin City Mouse. Enjoy your time

in the bush. Be careful of you know who.” “No, I don’t know who that is,” said City Mouse. “Snake!” cried Bush Mouse. “And you beware of Cat,” said City Mouse. “No problem,” said Bush Mouse. And they were off.
Chapter 2 Bush Mouse found City Mouse’s house and went in through a window. He found the kitchen and the cheesecake. Yummy! He ate until his tummy was full. He started to fall asleep when all of a sudden, he heard, “MEOW!”
City Mouse found Bush Mouse’s bush house. It wasn’t fancy, but it was cosy. A bed of soft grasses under the stars was perfect. He nibbled on fresh berries. He started to fall asleep when all of a sudden, he heard, “HISSSS!”
Chapter 3 Bush Mouse climbed off the cheesecake plate. He ran around the kitchen looking

for a place to hide. Cat ran after him. Bush Mouse found a tiny hole in the corner and zoomed inside. Boom, boom, went his heart.
City Mouse fell out of bed and ran through the grass looking for a place to hide. Snake slid after him. City Mouse found a tiny opening under a big rock and zoomed inside. Boom, boom, went his heart.
Chapter 4 “I want to go back to the bush,” thought Bush Mouse. “There are lots of places to run and fresh berries to eat under the stars.” After waiting for hours, Bush Mouse silently left the hole and went out the window.
“I want to go back to the city,” thought City Mouse. “There is plenty of cheesecake to eat inside the safe walls of my house.” After waiting for hours, City Mouse silently left the hole in the rock. He went back toward the city.
Both mice ran so quickly, they bumped into each other on the road.

"My vacation is over," said City Mouse. "Mine, too," said Bush Mouse. They lived happily ever after in their own homes.
Total:

Recorded Observations:

--